Licensed practical nurses (LPNs) provide nursing services to the Saskatchewan public. The Saskatchewan Association of Licensed Practical Nurses (SALPN) serves the public interest by ensuring that only individuals who meet the minimum standards obtain registration and licensure to practice in the province.

LPNs work in a variety of settings and hold positions of trust or authority towards persons under the age of eighteen (18) years, individuals with disabilities and seniors, all of which meet the criteria for a Vulnerable Sector screen.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in cursive script that reads "Cara Brewster".

Cara Brewster
Registrar, SALPN
